Toshiba Document Solutions combine Toshiba e-STUDIO systems with powerful software applications and targeted business process improvements to enable you to more effectively distribute, manage, and organize your documents. One of these software applications is Questys Pro.

> Document Management Made Simple

Imagine every file for your entire business within reach in a second! Questys Pro Document Management system lets you import electronic files including your Email, or scan paper documents using OCR (Optical Character Recognition) to archive your information into a searchable electronic format. Search and retrieve everything from your desktop, or from anywhere using Questys Pro Web.

Once the document you are searching for is retrieved, you can print, annotate, Email or export the information with a click of the mouse.

> Included with the basic Questys Pro software are:

- > Document image capture
- > Search and retrieval
- > Imaging
- > OCR
- > Revision control (check-in, check-out)
- > Retention scheduling
- > Activity log
- > External database lookups
- > Function-based security
- > User-definable index fields
- > Document hierarchies

Questys Pro has the largest standard feature set and the greatest value for document management at its price.

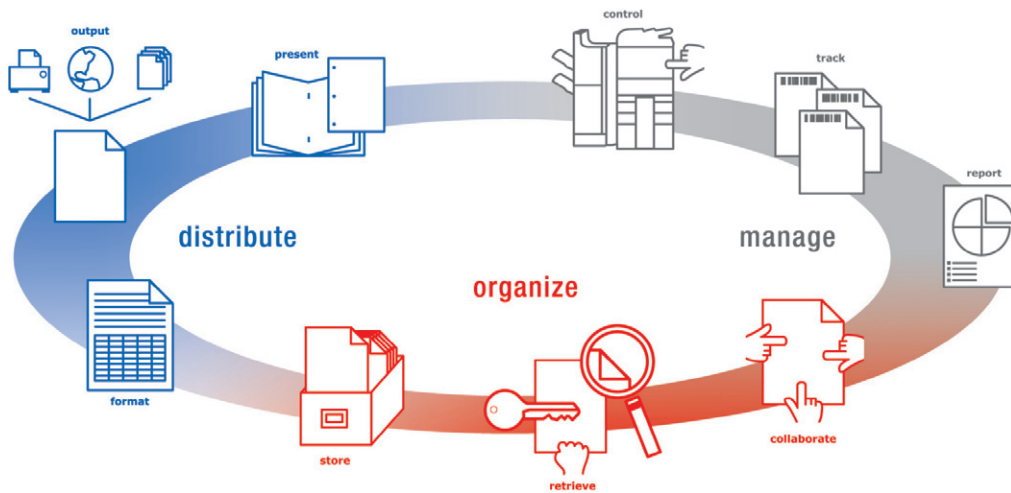

> Efficient Capture with eCopy

The task of scanning and indexing documents into Questys Pro can be made simpler using the optional Questys eCopy Connector. This program makes Questys Pro visible at the Toshiba e-STUDIO multifunctional printer on the eCopy ScanStation. Simply scan documents through eCopy and, using the touchscreen monitor and QWERTY keyboard, enter the index information right at the Toshiba e-STUDIO MFP. The connector is a direct link to the Questys Pro database, and the document is captured in Questys Pro with index information intact.

> Portable Document Retrieval

Documents stored in the Questys Pro database can be carried and accessed on a CD without the need to have a licensed Questys Pro program. The royalty-free CD module allows users to copy their document databases to CD and use the built-in search tool for retrieval.
